Some persons were hardly prepared t credit the news from Weston the other morning that the Democrat of that place would come out this week for Hayes and Wheeler, and the Republican State ticket. The editor, Mr. Woffindin, was known here and elsewhere as a very remark is as follows:

"Eighty thousand Union soldiers were enlisted in Kentucky in the war for the Union. All that survived are now politically ostracized in that State, while service in the Confederate army is the paramount and prerequisite qualification for office. This is the rule which Northern Democrats are working to bring into the National Administration, by placing the solid Confederacy in power." stringent Democrat, and as a Democra had served as assistant Clerk of the House of Delegates last winter. While despicable motives may cloak this feeling, it crops out in due time; and we know of our own nowledge that the deep hatred of all known as the "Union men" still exists, and is as firm and lasting as the lives of a he leaders of the Confederate movement. Union men are not wanted in the Democratic party. We speak by authority when we say that all who favored the Usion in the last troubles are unwelcome gaest in the "Democratic" family. We have been notified of this fact, and aut-borized to say that any man who fa-fored the Union is not and cannot be a true Democrat. All the service he is to that party is his voting strength. 1. We are impressed and have been from the first, that there never were the slightest ground for the chiarge. While he was our pastor, Rev. E. Lawson sustained the reputation he had won at Cumberland, Md., and other fields of labor, as a man of marked prudence, sterling integrity and unimpeachable purity of character. Woffindin who has served ten years Democratic editor out at Weston, and who has now renounced the devil and all his works, says that "the history of West Virginia Democracy," since it came into power, is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct ob-ject the establishment of an office-holding aristocracy at the expense of the tax-pay of character.

2. We have no reason to doubt that the fidelity of Rev. E. Lawson to the discipline and order of the Church, in calling unworthy persons to account, was the ocrepentant Democratic editor makes a casion of this malicious prosecution. Of the parties who felt themselves aggrieved by this fidelity, the following persons have been active against him, namely, Robert Seymour, Madison Banks, Geo. McMechen and H. McCollough; none of whom have dared to represent the stid Ellias Mozee (now a resident of Harrisburg, Va...) in court, and the two former of whom have found it convenient to absent themselves from the city when they should have been present to substantiate their bold allegations against the man who had dealt so faithfully with them. The respit of the whole matter but confirms the conviction in our minds early entertained that the miserable woman, in whose name the suit was brought. very pointed home thrust at some of his late brethren, as follows:

The "chief end of man," as illustrated from a West Virginia "Democratic" standpoint, is to contribute votes and taxes to support aristocratic gentlement to proud to beg and unwilling to work, whose chief achievement in life consisted in dodging military service in the Southern army by "representing" the western counties in the Richmond Legislature.

Wolffully save that the Democratic Woffindin says that the Democratic party in West Virginia "has become a terests of men" and not of principles Speaking of the history of the party for parties to effect their infamous purpose of injuring him and thus avenging them the past six years he says that Debate.

CHICAGO, September 5.—The Tribune's Columbia City, Indiana, special says: According to arrangement Senator Sherman and D. W. Voorhees met in joint debate here to-day, in the Public Square. At least five thousand people were present, equally divided between the parties. Senator Sherman opened with a speech an hour long, full of logic and argument. He pointed out the distinctive differences between the Republican and Democratic parties. He said they existed now as they ever have. The Republican cause was the cause of Good Government, good morals, public honor and national safety. The Democratic party was comprised of, dialoyal and treasonable elements, which are inimicable to law, order und public safety.

WAS THE CAUSE OF GOOD GOVERNMENT

In discussing the finance question, he said that he was the author of the Resumption Act, and gladly acknowledged the paternity of the measure. The Resumption of Specie Payments at the earliest possible moment is the only path to prosperity, he believed that the national currency could be reduced on or before the date fixed by the present law; if ho wever, it should be be reduced on or before the date fixed by the present law; if however, it should be found impracticable Congress had plenty of time to take whatever steps that may be needed between this and 1879. THE FORITION IN FAVOR OF THE TURES.

LONDON, September 5.—The Times' Vienna correspondent says: The military position is greatly in favor of the Turks. Should diplomatic action fail to secure a suspension of hostilities, it is the almost universal expression of the leading press of Europe that Turkey can not make too many or too ready concessions to public epinion if she would preserve her position in Europe in the face of the strong feeling excited by the Bulgarian massacres. One most important element in this question is the demonstrations now being made in England against Turkey. The feecling is becoming so strong and unmistakeable that friends of the government likewise are taking up the cry and seeking to prevent the question becoming a party one. A pamphlet on the subject by Gladstone will be published thas week. Earl Russell again writes a letter calling for an autumn session of Parliament. A letter from the Eishop of Manchester, calling upon the people as a nation to subscribe for the relief of the Bulgarians, contains the following: "Come what may, I do not see anything that is likely or even possible to endanger the position of England.

selying on this present and shocked the concience of the civilized world.

The Times to-day in a leading article argues the fallacy of saying that Turkey is an independent member of the European system. The right of neutral powers to intervene in her affairs was long ago established. We have not morally only but as a matter of International law, a right to see that justice is done the Porte's Christian subjects. All that the Porte's Christian subjects. All that is permanent in English policy in the East may be summed up in a sentence "That we desire to reduce to a mimi mum the disturbance involved in a very inevitable change." If bord Derby would know in abort what Englishmen want it is to cense from the vain repetition of th nt with the Czar on terms o peace which the two Powers can press with irresistible authority of the Sultan or on his ministers.

The Pall Mail Gazette apprehends that the Servian reliance on Russian aid has been so palpable throughout that Russia will be almost compelled to protect her now, and may interfere in such a manner as to provoke a general war. This is the only danger. The Turks will surely listen to English counsel if the negotiations are not defeated by Russian demands in excess of the Porte's patience. Meanwhile an armistice at least may be regarded as certain. regarded as certain.

ENGLAND. John Bright on Turkish Atroci-meeting in Rockdale to protest against the Turkish stroctties, a letter from John Bright was read, in which he says: "But for the confidence caused by the support of England the Turks would not have of England the Turks would not have dared to commit the crimes of which they have been guilty in Eulgaria. England should clear itself of all partnership in the interest and policy of Turkey. It is, a partnership unnecessary to our interests and degrades us in the estimation of every Christian nation."

Massachusetts Republican Con-

Massachusetts Republican Convention.

Worderster, Mass, September 5.—The Republican State Convention assembled here to-day. A. H. Beard was chosen temporary chairman. A resolution giving women a voice and vote in the primary meetings of the party was received with applause and hisses, and was referred without debate. Hon. G. S. Boutwell was selected chairman, and addressed the convention at great length. On motion of George F. Hoar, Alex. H. Rice was nominated for Governor without a single dissenting voice. Hon. H. G. Knight was nominated by acclamation for Lieutenant Governor. The ficket was completed by the nomination of H. B. Pierce, Secretary of State; J. L. Clark, Auditor of State; Charles Endinott, State Treasurer, and Charles R. Train, Attor-

Treasurer, and Charles R. Train, Attor-ney General.

The resolutions adopted ratify the acrey General.

The resolutions adopted ratify the action of the National Convention at Cincinnati; pledge united and carpest support to Hayes and Wheeler; favor prompt return to specie payment; putting the civil service on the ground of merit and fitness; restoring to the South the blessings of peace and the enjoyment of all alike, of liberty under law; express gratitude to the retiring President for his military services and maintaining the National honor, and credit; arraigning the Democratic party for repeating the perilous experiment of sectional organization in the South, founded upon the antagonism of race and color and for duralization in the financial policy.

In regard to the Democratic candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, the resolutions say that one of them is an inflationist and the other guilty of compromising his convictions to conciliate a class whose heresies he knows would lead to financial chaos, and also the disciples of that ultra school, which before the war admitted the right of a State to secede, and since the war denies the power of the nation to protect the lives and rights of its citizens.

The resolutions pledge the use of every means for the revival of husiness and rade, the simplification of taxation, and prudent husbandry of public mocey, and favor such legislation as will promote the causes of education, temperance, labor and equal rights of American citizens, irrespective of gex.

Thomas Talbot and Stephen Salisbury-were chosen Electors-at-Large.
